

Revisions of Currently Adopted Textbooks

A revised edition of a book which is already on the adopted list must be submitted for adoption according to normal procedures. However, if the revision retains the original title and authorship, the publisher may request its substitution for the book currently adopted, providing that:

1. The originally contracted price does not change.
2. The revised edition is totally compatible with the earlier adopted edition, permitting use of either or both in the same classroom.
3. A sample copy of the revised edition is provided for examination purposes.

The staff of the State Textbook Commission will make the final decision regarding substitution of a revised edition meeting the above requirements, based on recommendations received from the state subject area specialist.
